

2011 Courses in Hawaii

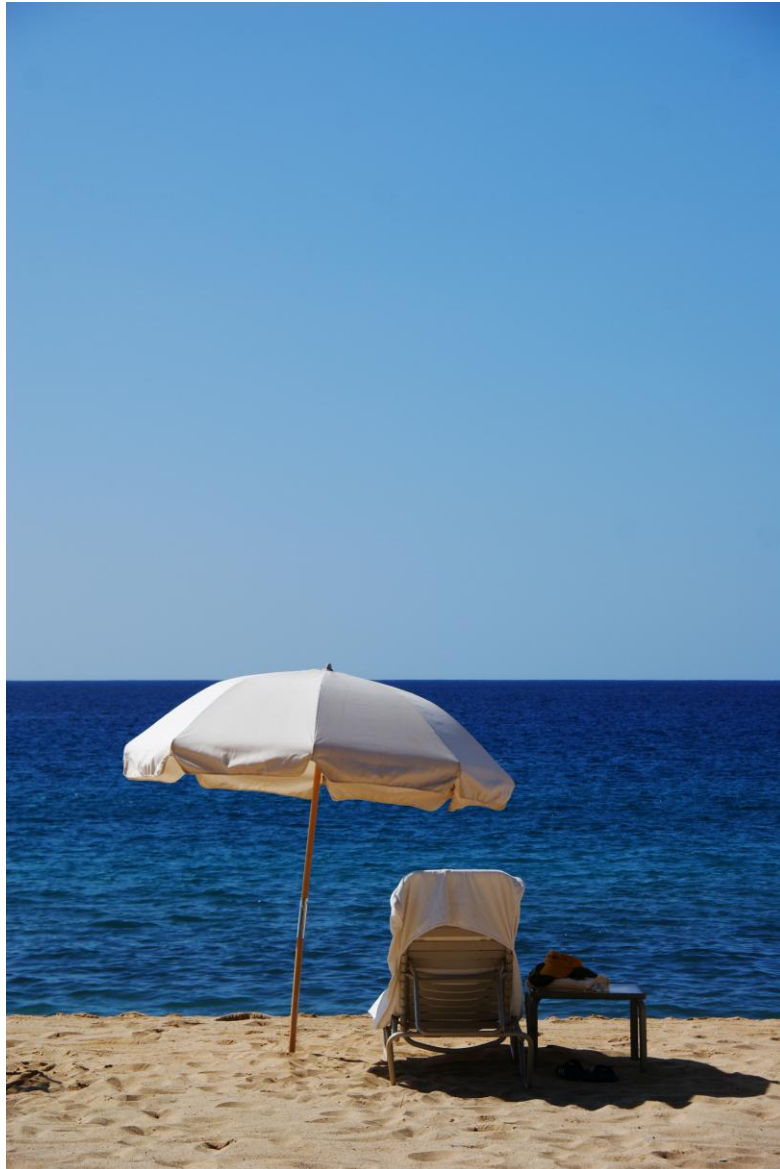

I have found a lovely retreat centre on the bay where the dolphins come in to rest and play on the Cona Coast at Kealahou Bay on Big Island, Hawaii, near the Captain Cook monument which has the best snorkelling I have ever experienced. It would be wonderful to hold residential courses, so I have decided to return for 2 weeks in the height of whale season - February to March 2011. I thought it would be wonderful to weave the Hawaiian whale and dolphin energies into our work, so we would allow time to watch, swim or kayak with the dolphins and to visit the sacred sights nearby. If we are really fortunate, we might be blessed with a soundbath from the whales as we are in the water!

The options I am considering are a Meditation Retreat and possibly an Angel or Ascension Teacher Training course. I would like to factor in enough free time for us to have someone come and teach us some Hula and also some rudimentary Lomi Lomi massage, so the Teacher Trainings would be over 10 days rather than 9 and we would begin class a bit later in order to fit in our dolphin swims or visit sacred sights or lava pools.

I am also considering a Metamorphic Technique course there as the Meta & dolphin combination seems to quicken both transformational aspects! Let me know if you would be interested in any of these courses as I would like to get them anchored soon.
